While the AICs have distinct characteristics which mark them out from the Main-line churches, yet it is necessary to point out that the former are immensely diverse. Some wear white garments while a few do not. Also, not all of them carry spiritual rods or staff, not all of them burn candles or incense. However, they have some basic characteristics which they all share.

The Book of Common Prayer (BCP) is the short title of a number of related prayer books used in the Anglican Communion, as well as by other Christian churches historically related to Anglicanism. The original book, published in 1549 in the reign of Edward VI, was a product of the English Reformation following the break with Rome. The work of 1549 was the first prayer book to include the complete ...

Introduce the Principle. In His great Intercessory Prayer, the Savior prayed that those who believe in Him might be one, even as He and His Father are one (see John 17:20–23). In the latter days the Savior commanded us to be unified when He declared, "Be one; and if ye are not one ye are not mine" (). Counseling together provides an opportunity to become unified as a presidency.
